

Renewing Homes of Greater Augusta (RHGA) strives to partner with the community of low-income households that we serve. We see the impact of long-standing inequalities and lack of opportunities for safe and affordable low-income housing in the Staunton, Augusta and Waynesboro area. We recognize the multi-factorial issues surrounding affordable housing access and look for opportunities to be a voice at any table seeking solutions. RHGA's mission focuses our efforts and resources on assisting our vulnerable, and often isolated, neighbors to achieve a safe and healthy living environment.

Diversity: We appreciate and leverage our differences, and we strive to involve and reflect the communities we serve. We recognize that many of our board and volunteers have enjoyed advantages that our applicants have not. Interactions with these households aim to be respectful of these differences as we gather their input into developing a home repair plan.

Equity: We align our policies, practices, and resources without regard to race, education, disability and cultures so that income-qualified homeowners have equal access to our home repair program. Our Vision continues to be that our community will be a better place to live when everyone has a safe and healthy home.

Inclusion: We strive to create an environment in which everyone feels valued and respected. As we work with our homeowners, we look for opportunities to involve them in, and provide education regarding, the work being done. We hope that this involvement empowers and encourages sustainable outcomes.
